1 ROBERT BRUNDAGE: I'm Robert Brundage, also from Toledo, the Fetal Environmental Coalition. Two points, two comments. I think there should be more accurate costs of generation and that these costs should be calculated into our power costs to ensure less future waste. And 2 second, living close beside an interstate in Toledo on the emergency vehicle entry route, I've noticed an increasing frequency of accidents on that interstate. I suggest a review of the -- and greater definition of the projections of future accident frequencies going into the calculation.
Thank you.
